Simple Steps to Starting a DTIC

Step One

Introduce the idea of forming an investment club to people you know who have expressed interest in investment portfolios like home based business, Internet business, Real Estate & Stocks, bond markets. You will need to own at least a Basic platform of DTC before you can form a club (a non-DTC member can as well join an investment club as an Associate)

Step Two

Agree on common goals for the group. Not minding the fact that the club set its own rule and plan, DTC advocate that clubs resources and investments should be centered on the common purpose the club set out to achieve. Members who are involved for social or educational reasons only may not mix well with serious investors.

Step Three

Agree on the level of financial commitment members will make. A large monthly contribution may eliminate members over the long run. Small investments may frustrate investors who want to commit large amounts of cash in hopes of seeing a larger return. More information is available at DTIC community.

Be careful when forming an investment group with friends. Financial difficulty can strain relationships. Always seek to understand the philosophy and believes of the individuals you are seeking to start a club with.
